

SUN.COM : SuN.Com is a multilateral project which will build sustainable social communities that will share and support teachers and learners of individual languages. Each community will be devoted to a single language. The communities will specifically focus on informal learning methodologies. The community will be originally developed for the learning of the Greek language and then it will be transferred to other less used European languages.